Dear Mr. Brandon,

Thank you for your continued cooperation in connection with my FOIA request on accelerated learning systems. Your diligence in this task is appreciated.

At this time, I would like to amend my previous request to include the following areas:

- 1) Any training methods, apparatus, exercises, or research information pertaining to increasing or enhancing an individuals powers of observation.
- 2) Any training methods, apparatus, exercises, or research information pertaining to increasing or enhancing an individuals ability to absorb and/or retain visual or aural information and conceptual material.
- 3) Any training methods, apparatus, exercises, or research information pertaining to enhancing an individuals free recall of observed incidents, informational or conceptual materials, etc.

In connection with these amendments, I am interested in all information indicating positive or negative results, as well as all materials describing procedures, methods, apparatus, experimental conditions, etc. Please notify me if search and duplication charges exceed my previous limit of $100.00. Otherwise, please proceed with the search, incorporating these amendments into your search.

As an additional step, please send me written notice of which components have been queried in regard to these requests, what the results were, and who was responsible for supervising the search in each component. Please let me know if you are unable to comply.

Again, thanks for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,

GREGG MOSCOE

re: FOIA request, accelerated learning systems

Dear Sir:

I am a graduate student at the University of Southern California, and I am trying to locate information on accelerated learning systems. I contacted the local office, but the office chief was unable to help me.

OTR? I would like to request any information you may have available on learning and training systems acceleration techniques used by the CIA, in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act. I am requesting information in, but not limited to, the following areas:

- 1) Hypnotic techniques for learning
- 2) Subjective time expansion technique
- 3) Drug-induced learning acceleration
- 4) Mnemonic devices and memory expansion techniques
- 5) Speed reading techniques
- 6) Speed learning techniques
- 7) Scanning and observation development techniques
- 8) Subliminal learning techniques

Please forward any and all information in this subject range to me. If you are unable to forward any particular information, please indicate why you are unable to make this information available to me at this time.

Sincerely,

GREGG MOSCOW

MR. GEORGE W. OWENS
Information and Privacy Coordinator
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Owens:

Thank you for your response to my FOIA request for information, sent to you on April 13, 1979.

I have read the information you enclosed regarding payment of reasonable search and duplication fees, and understand the provisions of the section you indicated. Since you have estimated on a preliminary basis that the cost of the search and duplication effort will be in excess of $25, I would appreciate it if you could possibly notify me as to the actual estimated cost of the project.

Should this prove impractical, I agree to pay all costs up to, but not exceeding $100, on a preliminary basis. If the total cost should be slightly in excess of that figure, I will probably agree to that as well. The main consideration is that as a graduate student, my budget is not unlimited.

I will look forward to hearing from you regarding this matter in the near future. I am very interested in this project, and sincerely hope you will have some good information and bibliographical materials.

Sincerely,

GREGG MOSCOE

P.S. Anything you can do to hold down the expense will be greatly appreciated.
